Alaska Adventures

This perfect blend of Wilderness, Adrenalin and Comfort combines Bear viewing, Flight Seeing, Hiking, heart thumping Whitewater Rafting, Sea Kayaking at our Seacoast Adventure Camp and a day at the "End of the Road". Three nights at remote camps & three at our main lodge. This trip is what Adventure Travel is all about. (2 minimum)

Day 1&2 Your trip starts in Seward after as you step off the Alaska Rail Road. You'll spend the afternoon on Alaska's most famous wildlife cruise in Kenai Fjords National Park. Whales, Puffins, and Otters thrive in this marine wonderland that is bordered by the endless calving glaciers of the Harding Ice Field. End your day at Kayak Adventure Camp, a very comfortable out camp in a cove compared in beauty to Yosemite National Park. For two days the team will guide you and your kayak into the fjords and animal filled waters surrounding our remote Kayak Adventure Camp.

Day 3&4 Following breakfast, transfer to the main lodge for showers, lunch, & the spectacular bush plane flight to our Seacoast "Bear Camp". These 2 days may be the highlight of your travel career. Spend two days with the Bear of a National Park. Cuisine is flown in daily from the main lodge while you overnight in comfortable, heated tent cabins with beds and mattresses. Spend your days observing up to 50 Brown Bear—Big Boars, Juveniles recently on their own and sows with twins—all fishing for salmon. You and very few others will share our camouflaged decks photographing one of Alaska's greatest shows. Your return flight, past volcanoes and glaciers rewards you with hot showers, happy hour and a wide screen monitor for your photos.

Day 5 The adventure continues with a whitewater raft trip on the famous class IV river known only as "6 Mile". From your "Freestyle" training drift to the final rapid, this trip will keep your adrenaline pumping until the final pull out. We'll end the day enervated, but happy, with "Sundowners" and friends at the main lodge. Five day trips end with a hike.

Day 6 The End of the Road! See early Russian Churches, active volcanoes, mountain vistas, a famous artist, and probably baby Moose with their mothers. Your first view of Homer on Kachemak Bay is unforgettable as you spend a fun filled day exploring the art and rustic uniqueness of a bush community at "Land's End".

Day 7 This morning boat into the silent and animal filled Wildlife Refuge, Hike a Tundra game trail to a shoreside lunch---and then board Stable River kayaks for the slow drift down the meandering stream of a Wilderness Paradise. You may opt instead to join a salmon charter on your last morning. Following afternoon Good Byes, depart for Anchorage.
