Tarpon Fishing

The stories of Costa Rican Tarpon Fishing are historic. For forty years, this Caribbean coast has been the place to hook trophy Tarpon. Whether offshore intercepting schools of feeding Tarpon or casting on a Jungle River, you will experience one of sport fishing's most treasured experiences.

Day 1 A 7:00 am departure from your hotel begins the van tour of mountains, cloud forest and banana plantation to the end of the jungle road. Board a riverboat for the exciting trip up river to the island paradise known as Jungle Tarpon Lodge. Enjoy a healthy lunch and head for the fish. Fishing fills the afternoon, then happy hour at the open bar and excellent local cuisine. Overnight

Day 2-6 Morning---Early in the morning skim along the shoreline in search of large feeding Tarpon. Casting to a feeding group, your heart will pound with excitement when you feel the tug on your small lure. After setting the hook, 60 to 150 pounds of pure muscle will surface in one of the most amazing sights in all of fishing. Spend your morning pulling big fish to the boat before heading back for lunch and maybe a little siesta or relaxing in the shade of the jungle canopy.

Afternoon---Tarpon enter the rivers through the river mouth and spend their time tailing under the overhanging canopy. Hooking a large fish in a small river will test your skill as you try to muscle a trophy to the boat. You will have to cast accurately and you won't land every fish you hook, but you will remember the fight forever. You can also cast for Snook (the world record was taken in these waters), or other small river species. Some of the time you might just ask the guide to explore the birds and animals and breathtaking beauty of Costa Rica's most famous National Park.

Last Day Depart by van after breakfast (no fishing this day). You may choose an optional flight back to San Jose.

Tarpon and Sailfish Combo - 5 day/4 night

This combination vacation is for the angler that wants to experience both Tarpon and Bill Fish in a one week vacation. You will fish at the lodge for Tarpon for three days, as described above, and, following breakfast on your fourth day, you will van and fly to the spectacular waters of the Pacific Coast. Overnight in a beautiful National Park beach hotel before departing next morning for an all day offshore charter. Sailfish will be the primary target along with Marlin, Rooster Fish &, Wahoo. You will return by air to San Jose around 4:00pm (meals not included after departing the lodge)
